

I hear, Lord, Thy speechless call in the sublimity of nature. ~ Vadan

SILENT VOICE

I hear you

Summer School News No. 2

March 2017

Dear friends, the sublime dunes of Katwijk are calling: come to the Summer School! Already travellers around the world are making plans for this journey. Please join them, in response to the speechless call that echoes in every heart.

To sharpen your appetite, here are some program highlights.

Guest lecture by Rabbi Gabriel Hagai

From Jerusalem and living in Paris for the last ten years, Gabriel Hagai is an orthodox Jew, a trained rabbi, the father of six children and the master and initiator in a mystical non-dualistic Jewish Sephardi tradition. He is involved in the House of Peace in Paris, and among his many activities, works to help de-radicalise Muslim prisoners.

Viladat Day

The opening of Summer School coincides with the birthday of Hazrat Inayat Khan. Come to join the smiles and the celebration.

Night Vigil

A silent, midnight experience of presence and meditation, finished with a performance of a late-night Indian classical raga.

Sunrise Walk

An early morning meditative attunement to nature, followed by breakfast in the Wakil House. The perfect start to a day for reflection and regeneration.

Music and Dance

Daily sessions of the choir with Aslan Sattler – everyone welcome, no training required! And a session of the Dances of Universal Peace.

Plan to be with us. The full program and prices are coming soon.

Hoping to see you there and with warmest greetings,

* The International Summer School Committee *